

SEMINAR ON: ACHIEVE MORE VALUE FROM YOUR IT INVESTMENT

March 05,2015 | JW Marriott Dubai Hotel | Dubai, UAE

BRIDGE GAPS BETWEEN BUSINESS AND INFORMATION TECHNOLOGY

OVERVIEW

Are you aware your company's IT organization offers more leverage opportunity than any department you have? Only IT can reduce the cost or improve the productivity of every organization in your company. No other department offers this type of leverage.

The Problem

Far too many executives don't realize or know how to get these benefits. Most view IT as a cost, not an investment that offers SIGNIFICANT LEVERAGE.

It is not Business' fault if they do not understand the value their IT organization can provide, , , IT is to blame. This is usually because our IT managers "manage technology" and don't manage the "business of IT support", , , a BIG DIFFERENCE.

The Good News

With knowledge and insight about the dynamics that exist within and around an IT organization, we can make major improvements in the relationship between Business and IT. When both groups speak and operate in "business value" terms, good things happen, , , so much so that IT starts looking like a valuable investment, not a cost.

Mike Sisco, ITBMC

AGENDA

08:00 AM - 09:00 AM: Registration, Coffee and Networking
09:00 AM - 2:00 PM

A. IT Support – Tremendous Leverage Opportunity

IT organizations have many challenges and the IT manager job is arguably the most difficult management position in a company. The great news is that IT offers your company the most leverage! Only IT can reduce the expenses or improve the productivity of every department in your company, , , no other department offers this kind of leverage.

B. Triple Threat To IT Success

There are three main causes of IT failure. Unfortunately, most IT managers are not aware when they exist in their company. In this session, we define what these threats are and the underlying issues that cause them to occur, , , then we provide insight and guidance in how to prevent or eliminate each threat in order to position your IT organization for success.

C. Closing The Gap Between Business And IT

There is a natural divide between business organizations and the IT organization. Learn what causes this and what you can do to close the gap in order to develop strong partnerships between business and IT.

D. 4 Key Things Every IT Recommendation Must Have

If you want senior executives to be interested in hearing IT recommendations, then they should always include these four key elements.

E. 21 Secrets Every IT Manager Must Know

This session is based upon Mike Sisco's insight and experience in managing IT organizations for more than 20 years and what he has observed in other IT managers.
